

EfCCNa Fellows 2017

---

EVA BARKESTAD, SWEDEN

Eva has presented work of EfCCNa at a number of congresses worldwide including Croatia and Serbia. Most notably Eva has led two successful EfCCNa congresses (Valencia and Belfast). Her dedication and commitment to this role has been outstanding. She has made herself available at all hours to manage these congresses & all times has been inclusive of the views of others.

Eva works diligently in critical care education in Sweden. She has undertaken number of projects that were designated to further advance care of the critically ill patient.

She has presented evidence from her teaching at congresses worldwide thereby demonstrating practice improvement through education.

Eva has served on the EfCCNa Board as a member with a remit for congress organization since 2011 & has served for 2 terms. Her contribution to the strategy of EfCCNa has been exemplary.

EVANTHIA GEORGIU, CYPRUS

Evanthia was a major player at the education committee.

During her participation the competency tool was developed and she took also part in the presentation of the tool at the congress in Belgrade. Without the knowledge of her it would have been difficult to get such a result.

Evanthia was part if the leader of several studies and research projects on national and international level.

Evanthia implemented the first special education programme for critical care nurses on a university level in Cyprus and was leader of that programme.

Part of the programme was based on the EfCCNa competency tool.
